ResearchConnect

Streamlining access to funding for universities and research institutions worldwide.

A specialist research funding database built for and designed by the international research community.

ResearchConnect is our complete specialist funding solution – providing you with access to the latest funding opportunities and news through its intuitive search functionality, tailored alerts and sharing tools. It is built for and designed by the international research community.

Our up-to-the-minute international database covers all key research disciplines and is updated by an expert team who monitor and report on a wide range of funding sources including charitable trusts, government, research councils, foundations and corporate sponsors. Real-time updates will keep you up to date with the latest information on research grants, funding calls, and policy changes, making it easier than ever to identify the right funding for you.

Key service benefits

Our ResearchConnect service offers:

- A complete specialist funding solution, saving you time and resource
- A cost-effective alternative to other research funding products
- Backed by Europe's leading publisher of funding and policy information
- Trusted by leading research institutions including universities, medical and health trusts around the world

A user-focused approach to research funding

ResearchConnect now integrates new, optional modules into the existing platform to pinpoint the most relevant opportunities in a truly innovative way:

- Search by summary: start your search on the basis of a project description (instead of keywords) to capture the full context and nuance of your funding needs.

- Search by author: type in the name of a researcher or ORCID iD, select which of the returned papers you would like to include in your search to find the most relevant funding opportunities. Once your results have been identified you can train the system using Active Learning;

- Active Learning: rate the results as good or bad and our search algorithm will look for options that have more similarities to the ones you like. Create and save your truly unique and personalised profile.

Key service features

ResearchConnect offers:

- An expansive database that includes international and alternative funding sources
- Intuitive search by type of applicant, research discipline, location, or search by keyword to find funding programmes or providers without a specific project in mind
- Filtered search results – by funding amount, funding type, funding source, or status
- Fund synopses providing key programme information, such as eligibility criteria and links to how to apply
- Updates and alerts including approaching deadlines and new funding calls relevant to your research
- Easy sharing of information with colleagues and other stakeholders
- A dedicated account manager to support you with any funding queries
- Training, tools and expertise to support successful applications
- Insight on funding policy and funding trends
